

Queensland Health

Home Death Pack

Specifically tailored for Queensland residents who choose to transfer home for end-of-life and terminal care, the resources packaged in the Home Death Pack provide information and practical advice for families and carers.

This can help empower families and carers to navigate the complexities of caring for a terminally ill person with confidence and compassion.

